

K - 3 Contributing to Community and Caring for the Environment

Literature Links

- A Mountain of Friends – Kerstin Schoene
- Tidy – Emily Gravett
- What if Everybody Did That? – Ellen Javernick

- Read and discuss the story.
- Ask: How did the animals work together to help someone in their community?
- Ask students to think about how a time they contributed to helping in the community.
- Have the students draw a picture showing how they contributed to the community and explain orally or in writing what they did.
- Have the student reflect on their strength in this area.
- Choose other books that focus on contributing to the community and caring for the environment.

With some support,
I can be part of a group.

I can participate in classroom activities to improve the classroom.

I can participate in group activities
to improve the classroom, school, community or natural world.

I contribute to group activities that make my classroom, school, community or natural world a better place.

